- 1. Logout of a password protected site when you are finished using it. This stops someone else seeing what you have been doing online.
- 2. Keep your passwords private.
 Passwords should include letters and numbers, and they could even be phrases.
- 3. Look for the padlock symbol in the address bar at the top of the browser before doing any online buying.
- 4. Ignore 'friend requests' on social media from strangers.
- 5. Tell a trusted adult if you discover that someone is saying unpleasant things about you on social media.

Don't

- 1. Don't use the word
 PASSWORD as your password.
 It is too easy for someone else
 to guess.
- 2. Don't type in all your personal details just because a site asks for them. Think about why they want to know all about you.
- 3. Don't click on blinking links that promise free downloads. They may send viruses or malware to your computer.
- 4. Don't be an Internet troll who upsets other people by posting nasty comments.
- 5. Don't believe everything you see or read on the Internet.
 Fake news is everywhere!
